Online Chess Tournament

Rules & Regulations:

Admission: Open for all & Free of charge

Date & Time: Friday 17th April at: 4:00 PM

Where? On lichess.org

Time Control: 3min only for each side.

Tournament Duration: 80 min

Score Calculation: A win has a base score of 2 points, a draw 1 point, and a loss is worth no points. Drawing the game within the first 10 moves will earn neither player any points. If you win two games consecutively you will start a double point streak, represented by a flame icon. The following games will continue to be worth double points until you fail to win a game. That is, a win will be worth 4 points, a draw 2 points, and a loss will still not award any points.

How is the winner decided?

The player(s) with the most points at the conclusion of the tournament's set time limit will be announced winner(s). When two or more players have the same number of points, the tournament performance is the tie break. Results and winners names will be published after the final report.

How does the pairing work?

At the beginning of the tournament, players are paired based on their rating. As soon as you finish a game, return to the tournament lobby: you will then be paired with a player close to your ranking. This ensures minimum wait time, however you may not face all other players in the tournament. Play fast and return to the lobby to play more games and win more points.

How does it end?

The tournament has a countdown clock. When it reaches zero, the tournament is over and the rankings are frozen. Games in progress must be finished, however they don't count for the tournament.

Fair Play:

Qatar Chess Association has taken several measures to ensure clean and fair play system for all participants. QCA reserves the right to BAN x-player from taking part in any future tournament hosted by QCA if x-player turn out to be cheating or using any external assistance like chess engines during the tournament.

If your lichess account is further convicted of fair-play violations, your account will be closed and you will be subjected to lichess private proceedings. You can find more information about this on: lichess.org/faq
